

Privacy Policy

The following describes the Privacy Policy for Snake River Surface Repair, LLC (“we”, “us”, or “our”) and <https://snakeriversurfacerepair.com> (our “website”).

Your Privacy

Your privacy is important to us and we will make every reasonable effort to protect it. By your use of the website, you hereby agree to those policies.

State Law & Accompanying Rights

In addition to Federal law, you may have other and more rights originating from State laws based on where you live. These State-based rights may augment, strengthen, or otherwise somehow compliment any privacy rights you have inherently or that you possess under Federal law.

Our Commitment to Children's Privacy

Protecting the privacy of children is important. For that reason, our website will never collect or maintain information at our website from those we actually know are under 18, and no part of our website is structured to attract anyone under 18. By your use of this website, you attest that you are over the age of 18 and agree not to allow or assist anyone under the age of 18 to use this site through the use of your information or computer.

Under our Terms of Service and Conditions of Use, children under 18 are not allowed to use our website and access our services. It is not our intention to offer products or services to minors.

Collection of Personal Information

When visiting our website, the IP address used to access our website may be logged along with the dates and times of access. This information is used to analyze trends, administer our website, track user’s movement, and gather broad demographic information for internal use such as statistics to allow us to improve our website. However, any recorded IP addresses are not linked to personally identifiable information in any way.

In addition, other information may be collected as well, and by your use of this website you specifically agree to allow this information to be collected and used to improve the website and the end-user experience.

The use of “cookies” is a common internet practice. Cookies are a method of allowing us to customize the use of our website. Simple information is transferred to your computer via the cookie which allows the content to reflect your preferences and activities. You should assume that our website uses cookies and you are free to make changes in your web browser to disable these or otherwise receive notification of cookies so you can take whatever desired action you so choose. Please understand that refusing cookies may disable some of the features of the website.

When a username and password is generated by our website, or created by you, these will usually be connected with some other information, personal or otherwise, related to or connected with you. Usernames and passwords, by their very nature, should be kept private.

Handling of Personal Information

Note that any personal information you provide to others apart from us or our vendors is wholly optional. If you disclose something in a blog post or comment or in any other public area, that “private” information is now “public” through your actions and we have no control nor take any responsibility for that disclosure.

Your information does comprise part of an overall whole that is the experience of operating Snake River Surface Repair, LLC and <https://snakeriversurfacerepair.com>. This aggregate of information may be used to understand our overall user base and it is expressly understood and agreed by you that we may share this information about our website visitors as a whole, not individually, with third parties for various purposes, in our sole discretion and that your personal information may be used in furtherance of our business through a third party, such as using a bulk email company to send emails wherein the data is stored on a different website than ours.

It is expressly understood and agreed by you that if we face a legal compulsion to provide data, such as through a subpoena, then we are authorized to do so. Illegal activity or other serious acts or allegations could create a need or even a duty to share that information and, in those cases, we reserve the right to share your information. In addition, there may be times when we would need to share your private information in order to protect our own interests as in a case of possible copyright infringement or other intellectual property violations and by the use of this website you hereby agree to allow us to do so.

Google Cookies

This website may use Google, or other third parties, as advertisement vendors and these third parties may use cookies to place advertisements on this website. These cookies enable the third-party advertisers to serve advertisements to visitors based on their visits to this website, including past visits, as well as other websites on the internet.

To opt out of the cookies you may visit the Google ad and content network privacy policy at https://www.google.com/privacy_ads.html. The other third-party vendors will also have a method to allow you to opt out of those and your internet browser will also allow this to be done. Tracking of users through the cookies are subject to the third parties’ own privacy policies and Snake River Surface Repair, LLC takes no responsibility for these.
